CHARLES DICKENS, the younger, was overcome by the grandeur of Niagara Falls. He said, as he gazed upon the cataract: "Why, this is something awful. My father, in his 'American Notes,' speaks of Niagara as a place of peace and rest. I don't see what he could have been thinking about. Peace and rest! Why, to me it is one of abject terror."

ONLY TWO SAVED.

The Survivors' Story of an Ocean Disaster—Only Two Saved Out of a Crew of Twenty-eight.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—For thirty-two days two survivors of the crew of twenty-eight men were on a dismantled, water-logged hulk in the stormy seas with never a sail in sight. Such was the substance of the story told by Oscar Linn and Henry Mognus, the only witnesses to the loss of the American clipper ship, "Alfred Watts." The ship left Philadelpha October 8, for Hiogo, in Japan. On October 19 a hurricane struck the vessel and all were swept away, except these two men. On November 20 the bark, "Lizzie Perry," took them off in an exhausted condition. The "Perry" was wrecked four days later, but everyone was saved by an English steamer.

FOUR MEN KILLED

By a Dynamite Explosion While Engaged in Quarrying.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 23.—The explosion at a limestone quarry near Brookfield, this morning, killed four men, one being Alexander McDonald, the proprietor of the quarry. They were warming dynamite, previous to using it for a blast, when it exploded, it is supposed, from overheating.

An Aged Couple Found Dead on the Floor of Their Home—The Work of Robbers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—James Miller, a real estate dealer, about seventy years old, was found lying dead this morning on the floor at his home on West Sixteenth street. Beside him him lay his wife, unconscious and dying On her face and head were several gashes. It is supposed the couple were attacked and beaten by robbers. The discovery mas made by a letter carrier.

LATER.

The police now believe the case was not one of murder or robbery, but that the old man died of heart disease on his chair and fell from it, knocking the chair and stove down in the fall, and Mrs. Miller was too weak-minded to notify the neighbors of her husband's death, and that her weak and exhausted condition was due to starvation, as she was unable to procure or cook food for herself.

TAMMANY HALL DEMOCRATS.

They Ask that the Convention Meet in New York—Congratulatory Speeches.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Tammany hall held a large meeting last night, and listened to congratulatory speeches on the result of the last election. The following resolutions were passed:

We commend to the consideration of the democratic national committee the propriety of holding the national convention of 1888 in the city of New York.

The loyalty of the democratic party of this city deserves the recognition which we request on their behalf, while the accommodation for delegates which can be here provided for exceeds that which can be offered by any other city in this country.

We favor the prompt and speedy enactment by the congress of the United States of such measures as will reduce the surplus now accumulated in the treasury, and limit the revenue to the needs of the government, but we demand that in any readjustment of the tariff the interests of American labor shall be jealously protected.

The two adjoining buildings were damaged about $1,000 each and the respective stocks about the same amount. All covered by insurance.

Norris, their captor, proceeded on to Circleville at 10 o'clock yesterday. Some time was devoted to negotiations between the thieves, their victim, the attorneys, and officers, looking to a withdrawal of the prosecution in consideration of the return of the bulk of the $5,000 taken from Sidney J. Ward. Scribner was identified here as one of the men who fleeced Soloman Lewis, of Warren, out of $2,000 about eight months ago.

The pupils of the Cathedral schools were dismissed for the holiday vacation to-day. The 800 scholars enjoyed the visit paid them by the bishop and the vicar general. It goes without comment that Bishop Dwenger's interest in parochial schools is not limited either to this city or his diocese. His work on the parochial school system is an historical fact of the recent Baltimore council.

ESCAPED DETECTION

Some of Them Seemed to Know the Pursuer Was on Their Track and They Escaped.

The holiday travel will commence tomorrow.

The railroads will enjoy a picnic during the holidays.

The limited on the Pittsburg was two hours late this morning.

The Lake Shore road is still doing an immense amount of freight business.

G. F. and John Hess, sons of Jacob Hess, will spend their holidays at Delphos, Ohio.

Henry Brandt, a moulder in the Bass foundry, attended the wedding of Chas. Byer last night.

Lewis Seipe, the machinist in the Bass foundry, leaves for Chicago to-night to spend a few days.

Some of the manufacturing establishments are too busy to close down either on Saturday or Monday.

Quite a number of the employes of the railroads and manufacturing establishments will spend the holidays abroad.

There was a dance last night at Hake's hall in Bloomingdale and Adolph Fromuth, a machinist in the Bass foundry, was there. That is how we happen to know

The men who have indoor work during the winter are fortunate. Most of them are mechanics and this is one of the many reasons why young men should learn a good trade.

Receiver McNulta, of the Wabash, has issued a circular stating that Monday, December 26th, will be observed as a holiday by that road and that all work, as far as possible, will be suspended on that day.

All the departments of the Pennsylvania company's shops in this city began taking an inventory of stock to-day. This they do twice a year. It takes several days to accomplish the task, and as a consequence, the clerks in the shops have their hands full of work.

Harry Hayes, the machinist at the Bass foundry, had intended to spend his holidays at his old home in Richmond, Ind., but he has been ordered to go to Decatur, Ill., to repair an engine for the electric light works there and he will consequently spend his Christmas in that city.

Mr. G. L. Potter, the master mechanic of the Pennsylvania company's shops in this city, has posted a notice on the bulletin boards in the works, stating that the various departments of the Pittsburg shops will be closed down on Monday and no work will be in progress that day except for necessary repairs. This will give the eleven hundred employes of the Pittsburg works a well earned holiday.

Mr. T. R. Pickard, the superintendent of the Bass foundry and machine works, was met by a SENTINEL reporter this morning and asked what day the Bass works would observe for a Christmas holiday. "We shall observe Monday," said Mr. Pickard, "and on that day all the departments of the works will be closed down, and no work will be done except that necessary for repairs."

Harry Daulby, a machinist in the Bass foundry, has resigned his position and will go to his old home at Richmond, Ind., to-morrow. Harry is unfortunate. About a week ago he had a pocket book, containing $30, stolen from his room in his boarding house, and has not been able to obtain any trace of the money or the thief. His room-mate had $35 taken from his pocket at the same time.

Mr. Manning's Condition.

ALBANY, Dec. 23; 10 a. m.—Mr. Manning's is still living and may last the day out, though this is hardly expected.

3 p. m.—Mr. Manning is steadily weakening and his family are preparing for the approaching end.

It Didn't Improve with Age.

Caller (in newspaper office)—Twenty years ago I wrote a poem.

Editor—Yes?

"I brought it to this office, and you refused to publish it."

"Very likely."

"I remember that I mentally put you down then as a confounded idiot who didn't know enough to ache when hurt."

"Naturally."

"I looked that poem over again the other day, and have come to see you about it.

"Aha!"

"I have come to say that if I looked as green twenty years ago as that poem proves me to have been, I want to thank you because you didn't cut me up and feed me to the cows. Good-day."

The editor drew a long chalk-mark under the table. It was the first case in all his experience in which twenty years had begotten sense enough to understand that it is sometimes necessary to be cruel to be kind.—Binghamton Republican

FIRE AT NEW HAVEN

Spontaneous Combustion Causes a Big Fire in George Zurbuch's Store Building.

George Mack is the happy father of a big baby girl.

J. F. Haake, of Cleveland, Ohio, was the guest of F. Mack, Wednesday.

Catherine Drier left for Pella, Iowa, Tuesday, where she is visiting relatives.

Mrs. C. E. Rodenberg paid Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rogers a visit Tuesday.

H. F. Schneiker left for Independence, Mo., Thursday, where he expects to make his future home.

W. H. Dornte has accepted a position as car inspector at Fort Wayne in the Wabash yards.

The railroad boys are happy; the Wabash railway paid its employes Wednesday and the Nickel Plate paid theirs Thursday.

J. C. Cromwell, of Fort Wayne, is shipping several cars of piling from here to Chicago, over the Wabash railway for piers in Lake Michigan.

Thursday evening, St. Charles branch, C. K. of A., held their election for officers to serve one year, which resulted as follows: J. J. Lee, president; C. Trudeau, vice presinent; J. D. Bickel, recording secretary; F. J. Manuel, financial secretary; B. Libbet, treasurer; A. Blaising, sergeant-at-arms; A. L. Rich, sentinel, and F. J. Zurbuch, trustee for three years.

Would it not be proper for our marshal to see to it that the town pump is kept in working order. Water could have been used to good advantage this morning.

J. E. Miller is working in the Nickel Plate dispatchers office at Fort Wayne. Chas. Waldruff is doing the telegraphy for the Nickel Plate here, during his absence.

About 4 o'clock this morning our people were summoned out by the fire bell, to what might have been a very large fire. Fire was discovered in the rag room on the second floor of Geo. Zurbuch's store building. Luckily the fire was got under control by the work of willing hands. If it had but a few minutes more start it would, without doubt, have burned out the business portion of our town. Smoke and water damaged the stock to the extent of about $900. The damage to the building was about $175. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion.

The citizens telegraphed to Fort Wayne for a fire engine, but they worked heroically enough to check the flames before anything was done towards sending a fire steamer down.

Mr. Zurbuch is a popular, enterprising young gentleman and is well known in Fort Wayne. His losses are covered by insurance.

Bert Grover left for Independence, Mo., Thursday, where he expects to make his future home.

NOW AND THEN.

Seldom have our people been offered such a complete display of gents' and boys' gloves and mitts as Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max are showing as holiday novelties.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES.

A Trio of Them Are Caught and Must Go to the Reform School.

Officers Lapp and Romy arrested James Crance, Nicholas Gessert and Herman Hilker for burglarizing the store of J. M. Keyser. Dec. 13.

They took from Mr. Keyer's place of business, in the Seventh ward, a big quantity of tobacco and cigars, and such articles as were of utility to them.

The officers succeeded in fixing the crime on the offenders, who are all under age. They had a hearing before the mayor this morning and he held them for trial in the sum of $200.

They afterward confessed that the stolen stuff was secreted under a culvert on Pontiac street and there the officers recovered it.

The lads were arraigned before Judge O'Rourke this afternoon. He took pity on them and gave them a Christmas gift. Crance got thirty days in jail, Gessert twenty days and Kilker got twenty days.

What His Visits Were Like.

"Your visits reminds me of the growth of a successful newspaper," said a Chicago pater familas, leaning his chin on his hand and glancing affectionately up at William Henry, who was sweet on the old gentleman's daughter, Felicia Angelica.

"How so?" inquired the prospective son-in-law.

"Well, they commenced on a weekly, then they grew to a tri-weekly; the next change was to a semi-weekly; still later, we were favored with an evening edition, and now it has progressed to both a morning and an evening issue."—Sunday National.

Letter From the Assistant Foreman of the Delivery Department—A Subject in Which Thousands are Deeply Interested,

About five years ago I suffered from pain, full urination and great pain and weakness in the lower part of my back, pain in the limbs, bad taste in the mouth, disgust at food, and great mental and bodily depression.
I live at 241 York street, Jersey City, and on arriving home one night I found a copy of the Shaker Almanac that had been left during the day. I read the article, "What is this Disease that is Coming Upon Us?" It described my symptoms and feeling better than I could if I had written a whole book. My trouble was indeed "like a thief in the night," for it had been stealing upon me unawares for years. I sent for a bottle of Shaker Extract of Roots, or Seigel's Syrup, and before I had taken one-half of it I felt the welcome relief. In a few weeks I was like my old self. I enjoyed and digested my food. My kidneys soon recovered tone and strength, and the urinary troubled vanished. I was well.
Millions of people need some medicine simply to act on the bowels. To them I commend Shaker Extract in the strongest possible terms. It is the gentlest, pleasantest, safest and surest purgative in this world. The most delicate women and children may take it. One point more; I have all the more confidence in this medicine because it is prepared by the Shakers. I may claim to be a religious man myself and I admire the Shakers for their zeal, consistency and strict business integrity. What they make may be trusted by the public. W. H. HALL.

FRIDAY, DEC. 23, 1887.

REMEMBER the poor on Christmas day.

MR. WIGGINS predicts a "green Christmas."

THE Christmas trade is phenomenal, and business men are rejoicing.

HON. DANIEL MANNING'S death will be deeply deplored. His individuality made him great and won for him national distinction.

WHEN the present extensions to Indiana roads are completed, this state will have in round numbers 6,000 miles of railroad, exclusive of side tracks, the valuation of which will be in the neighborhood of $65,000,000.

UNITED STATES SENATOR GORMAN, as is well known, was once a page in that body, but it is not so well known that Representative Hitt, of Illinois, fifteen years ago, was a member of the staff of house stenographers, and took in shorthand the speeches of some of the men with whom he now sits and votes on the floor.

IT is announced that there will be a grand gathering of democrats at Indianapolis, January 11, 1888, The call is made under the direction of the Hendricks club, of which James H. Rice, chairman of the stale central committee, is president. The purpose of the rally is to make arrangements for the organization of Hendricks clubs in all parts of the state. It will be the beginning of the campaign. This is a step in the right direction, and every democrat who can, especially the young democracy, should attend if possible.

EDITOR SAM WINTER, of the Marion Jacksonian, devotes two columns of that paper to congressional politics, and as the district adjoins the Twelfth, the gossip will interest. The article is interesting as showing how many distinguished republicans and democrats there are in that congressional district, who are credited with political aspirations. Among the republicans mentioned are Major Steele and Hiram Brownlee, of Grant county; J. J. Todd and W. S. Silvers, of Wells county; R. S. Patterson, Adams county; General Shanks, Col. Headington, Jesse LaFollette and W. H. Williams, Jay county; Calvin Cowgill, Wabash county, and S. L. Good, C. E. Briant, A. H. Shaffer and J. B. Kenner, of Huntington county. On the democratic side the following names are suggested: Hugh Daugherty and A. N. Martin, Wells county; James Bobo, Silas Hale and John M. Smith, Adams county; Bayard S. Gray, W. H. Harkins and Dr. Silvey, Jay county; the Farrars and Judge Mitchell, of Miami county, and Bals. Eisenhauer, of Huntington.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. JAMES. M. ROLLINS, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

PEASANTS OF CHAMPERY.

A Swiss Village Whose Young Men and Women Are Not Given to Marrying.

[London Queen.]

The peasants of Champery are especially genial and pleasant; every one you meet has a bonjour for you, and they never think of asking more than the value of their excellent cream and milk. They are not a marrying people, and there are very few children to be seen. In one of their possessions there were eighty-five unmarried women. Astonished at such a number of old maids in a small community, I inquired if the young men sought brides from a distance. The answer was: "Oh, no; they do not often marry at all. They live at home with their parents; there are not chalets enough for them to make a separte menage, nor land enough to feed more mouths." Therefore this village bids fair to decrease in population.

The Cure has an immense influence and does not allow his people to beg. He disapproves of gay colors. Hence the women's hats are mostly trimmed with black, and he has put quite a veto on dancing. When servants' balls are got up in the hotels he begs that the young men will not give their hands in the dance to the stranger. He does not think it necessary to caution the young women. A few days ago a young girl, said to be the prettiest in the village, died of consumption and was buried two days afterward. It was a pretty sight to see the funeral procession come down the village. The bearers were four young men with white ribbons and favors, and the women all wore white muslin veils—the same which they had worn on the tete of the Assumption of the Virgin, when all the people, men and women, attended service in the church, and with the Cure at their head, walked through the village, chanting and carrying a banner. The little church was full during the funeral service, the women kneeling to the left, the men to the right of the aisle, the coffin placed in the middle, covered with flowers and surrounded by lighted candles. At one period of the service the women all filed round in procession, each one sprinkling the coffin with holy water. After the coffin had been lowered the grave was filled in by the four young men, and the mound shaped by them, the poor girl's godmother remaining to superintend and put the finishing touches. The portrait of the girl adorns the shop windows, riding on a mule like a man, and with the primitive wide trousers which the women wear in the mountains. There are two or three general shops or "stores," where every variety of article can be purchased, from large hats and gauze veils to woolen goods and English biscuits.

As a rule ladies come to these mountain places quite unprovided with suitable attire. They have dresses with "kilting" round the bottom, which rip off and catch on a rock the first mountain path they descend, often risking a bad fall. Then they have boots so thin that the stones literally cut them to pieces, and they have to resort to the native shoemaker, who will make them a strong pair of high laced-up boots for about 14 francs. A plain woolen skirt, not gored, is the most useful dress. It should be not so tight as to impede progress, nor so heavy as to fatigue the wearer, and there will be nothing in it to catch or tear. A full flannel bodice and belt at the waist, to which latter a few useful articles should be attached (knife, scissors, pins, etc.), and a large hat, which will dispense with a sunshade, are also desirable, as it is uncomfortable to have to hold a parasol in one hand and pick your way with an alpenstock in the other.

"He saw before him the Gladiator die." Yes, and he wouldn't perhaps, if there had only been a sensible man to rub him well with Salvation Oil.

Courtship in Greenland.

The preacher is invariably resorted to, both by young men and maidens, as the matrimonial agent. A young man comes to the missionary house and says to him, "I want to marry."

"Whom?" asks the missionary. "Have you any one in mind?"

"Yes," answers the lover, "but she will not have me. I want you to speak to her."

"Have you not spoken for yourself?"

"Many times, but she always says 'No.'"

"That is nothing," says the pastor; "you know the ways of maidens. Does she like you?"

"It is difficult to find out. She will tell you." The pastor accordingly sends for the girl, who comes willingly enough, knowing what the message means.

"Well," my daughter, he observes, "it is time you should think of marriage."

"I never mean to marry," is the invariable and conventional answer.

"That is a pity," says the minister, "because I have a good husband for thee."

"Who is he" she asks.

The missionary then tells his name—although she knows it as well as he does—and launches out into the lover's praise. He is strong, good-looking, kindly, he caught two fine whales when his companions took none, or whatever else can be said to his repute. After the catalogue of his merits has been given the girl replies:

"But I think him good-for-nothing."

"Ah, well, says the missionary, "thou art not wise. There is no lad can fling a harpoon as he can. I shall soon find him a wife."

He then wishes the girl a good day, affecting to believe that the interview is over. But she is sure to linger, and after a blush and sigh she whispers: "So it is particularly your wish, Herr Pastor? I do not quite like him," with a deep sigh, "but if you——" At this point she virtually hands over the business to the minister, who has to tell her that she knows she loves the lad; that she would not have come if she had not thought of accepting him, and that nothing is wanting but to ask the blessing of God upon their union.

The marriage, curiously enough, usually takes place upon the very day on which the bride has emphatically protested that she will never have the bridegroom.—Manchester Courier.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

When Major Wilkes Treats a Crowd He Draws the Line at Custard Pie.

Major Horatio N. Wilkes, one of the Democratic warhorses of Lycoming County, Pennsylvania, was running for a seat in the Pennsylvania Legislature on the Democratic ticket in a red-hot Republican district. He ran so well that he came within 217 votes of taking the prize, and is as proud of the feat as though he actually won. During the canvass the Major visited every election precinct and invaded country stores, where everything from hairpins and groceries to tobacco and whisky is dispensed.

One day he stalked proudly into a store in which a dozen men were sitting around on boxes and barrels. He boldly announced himself and proceeded to make friends. At first the crowd was disposed to guy the stout little Major, but they found he was not an ordinary man and would not be trifled with. After discussing politics about five minutes he electrified the loungers by pulling out a wad of greenbacks and saying: "Come, boys, what are you going to have with me?"

No man knows what a crowd of men in a country store will take until he has tried it. That was the Major's first experience. Well, the idlers arose as one man and shuffled up to the counter.

"What'll you have, boys?" repeated the Major.

"Wa-a-l," drawled a tall farmer, "give me a little nose-paint. Make it old rye."

"That's good enough for me," said the Major. "What's yours, my friend?" he inquired, turning to a long-haired bystander.

"Well, seein' as I don't drink anythin' 'cept water and once in a while a little milk, I guess I'll take a pint of peanuts."

The look the Major gave the temperance apostle would have withered a turnip, but the apostle didn't see it.

"Give me some pop beer," demanded another.

"Mine's a paper of fine-cut cavendish," demanded a third.

"And mine's whisky," blurted a big man with his trousers stuffed into his boots.

So it went, some calling for fluids and some for solids until all but three men on the outskirts of the throng had been treated.

"Come, come, gentleman, don't be bashful. Call for what you want to drink or smoke," said the Major, as he poured two fingers of old rye in a goblet.

"Well, General, considerin' the fact that I don't drink," responded a guant backwoodsman, "I'll take five sticks of candy—for the little 'uns at home, you know."

The Major almost dropped his glass, but by a supreme effect controlled his emotions and, smiling a mechanical smile, turned to the next man with "And yours, sir?"

"I'll take a piece of custard pie, if it's all the same to you, General."

The Major set his goblet down on the counter with a bang, mopped his forehead, and said in a voice quivering with rage: "Gentlemen, I suppose it's all right to call for what you want—whisky, tobacco, cigars, or hairpins let it be; yes, even five sticks of candy—but I'll be eternally hornswoggled if I don't draw the line at custard pie."

And he paid the bill with a flourish and left the store.

MAKE NO MISTAKE.—If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion and preparation, curative power superior to any other article of the kind before the people. For all affections arising from impure blood or low state of the system it is unequalled. Be sure to get Hood's.

To Clean Silver.

Dissolve a lump of carbonate of ammonia in a pan of absolutely boiling water, pass the silver through it and dry immediately. Once a week rub the spots with fine whiting dissolved in spirits of wine. When this is quite well dried on the silver rub each piece carefully with clean towels and then with soft chamois. It will be beatifully bright. Still better than whiting is the jeweler's rouge, made in bars for the express purpose of cleaning silver. Wash the silver every time it is used, in a pan by itself, with plenty of boiling water, a brush and silver soap. Dry each piece as it is taken out of the water and rub with the chamois cloth before putting it away. Treated in this way silver never becomes dim and the weekly polishing is not a formidable affair.

CENSURE and criticism never hurt anybody. If false, they cannot harm you, unless you are wanting in character; and, if true, they show a man his weak points, and forewarn him against failure and trouble.

CHARLES DICKENS, the younger, was overcome by the grandeur of Niagara Falls. He said, as he gazed upon the cataract: "Why, this is something awful. My father, in his 'American Notes,' speaks of Niagara as a place of peace and rest. I don't see what he could have been thinking about. Peace and rest! Why, to me it is one of abject terror."

ONLY TWO SAVED.

The Survivors' Story of an Ocean Disaster—Only Two Saved Out of a Crew of Twenty-eight.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—For thirty-two days two survivors of the crew of twenty-eight men were on a dismantled, water-logged hulk in the stormy seas with never a sail in sight. Such was the substance of the story told by Oscar Linn and Henry Mognus, the only witnesses to the loss of the American clipper ship, "Alfred Watts." The ship left Philadelphia October 8, for Hiogo, in Japan. On October 19 a hurricane struck the vessel and all were swept away, except these two men. On November 20 the bark, "Lizzie Perry," took them off in an exhausted condition. The "Perry" was wrecked four days later, but everyone was saved by an English steamer.

FOUR MEN KILLED

By a Dynamite Explosion While Engaged in Quarrying.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 23.—The explosion at a limestone quarry near Brookfield, this morning, killed four men, one being Alexander McDonald, the proprietor of the quarry. They were warming dynamite, previous to using it for a blast, when it exploded, it is supposed, from overheating.

Encouraging Immigration.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 23.—It is announced at El Paso, Texas, that the Mexican government has granted extraordinary concessions to real estate companies to induce immigration to the eleven states of Mexico. The government has granted an exemption from taxation and duty on these tracks and insures proper protection.

They Have Gas.

NEW CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 23.—Natural gas was found here yesterday. The Cook Brewing company's plant is situated at Twenty-seventh street and Johnson avenue. The company has water works system of its own. The pipe extends forty feet out into the lake. It failed yesterday and gas was found in the pipe, which sends out enough gas to make a 15-inch flame.

DEATH AND ROBBERY

An Aged Couple Found Dead on the Floor of Their Home—The Work of Robbers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—James Miller, a real estate dealer, about seventy years old, was found lying dead this morning on the floor at his home on West Sixteenth street. Beside him lay his wife, unconscious and dying On her face and head were several gashes. It is supposed the couple were attacked and beaten by robbers. The discovery was made by a letter carrier.

LATER.

The police now believe the case was not one of murder or robbery, but that the old man died of heart disease on his chair and fell from it, knocking the chair and stove down in the fall, and Mrs. Miller was too weak-minded to notify the neighbors of her husband's death, and that her weak and exhausted condition was due to starvation, as she was unable to procure or cook food for herself.

TAMMANY HALL DEMOCRATS.

They Ask that the Convention Meet in New York—Congratulatory Speeches.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Tammany hall held a large meeting last night, and listened to congratulatory speeches on the result of the last election. The following resolutions were passed:

We commend to the consideration of the democratic national committee the propriety of holding the national convention of 1888 in the city of New York.

The loyalty of the democratic party of this city deserves the recognition which we request on their behalf, while the accommodation for delegates which can be here provided for exceeds that which can be offered by any other city in this country.

We favor the prompt and speedy enactment by the congress of the United States of such measures as will reduce the surplus now accumulated in the treasury, and limit the revenue to the needs of the government, but we demand that in any readjustment of the tariff the interests of American labor shall be jealously protected.

THE FIRE KING

Destroys a Mammoth Brewery at St. Louis—Fires Elsewhere.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 23.—A fire started in the Winkelemyer Brewing association, on Market street, at 3 o'clock this morning. The ice house was destroyed. Loss, $15,000. There are 70,000 bushels of malt in the malt house valued at 90 cents per bushel. It is feared this is injured by water.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 23.—F. W. Ruff & Co., occupied a three story building in one of the principal blocks in the city. A defective flue is supposed to have been the cause of the fire. The building was owned by Wm. Capeller, and insured for $4,000. The stock is a total loss and was valued at $40,000. The two adjoining buildings were damaged about $1,000 each and the respective stocks about the same amount. All covered by insurance.

HUDSON, Mich., Dec. 23.—A dispatch was received here from New Richmond stating that town was being destroyed by fire.

MARION, Ind., Dec. 23.—Walter Haines and Daniel Scribner, who were detained here on a writ of habeas corpus, withdrew their papers and in the custody of John T. Norris, their captor, proceeded on to Circleville at 10 o'clock yesterday. Some time was devoted to negotiations between the thieves, their victim, the attorneys, and officers, looking to a withdrawal of the prosecution in consideration of the return of the bulk of the $5,000 taken from Sidney J. Ward. Scribner was identified here as one of the men who fleeced Solomon Lewis, of Warren, out of $2,000 about eight months ago.

The pupils of the Cathedral schools were dismissed for the holiday vacation to-day. The 800 scholars enjoyed the visit paid them by the bishop and the vicar general. It goes without comment that Bishop Dwenger's interest in parochial schools is not limited either to this city or his diocese. His work on the parochial school system is an historical fact of the recent Baltimore council.

ESCAPED DETECTION

Some of Them Seemed to Know the Pursuer Was on Their Track and They Escaped.

The holiday travel will commence to-morrow.

The railroads will enjoy a picnic during the holidays.

The limited on the Pittsburg was two hours late this morning.

The Lake Shore road is still doing an immense amount of freight business.

G. F. and John Hess, sons of Jacob Hess, will spend their holidays at Delphos, Ohio.

Henry Brandt, a moulder in the Bass foundry, attended the wedding of Chas. Byer last night.

Lewis Seipe, the machinist in the Bass foundry, leaves for Chicago to-night to spend a few days.

Some of the manufacturing establishments are too busy to close down either on Saturday or Monday.

Quite a number of the employes of the railroads and manufacturing establishments will spend the holidays abroad.

There was a dance last night at Hake's hall in Bloomingdale and Adolph Fromuth, a machinist in the Bass foundry, was there. That is how we happen to know

The men who have indoor work during the winter are fortunate. Most of them are mechanics and this is one of the many reasons why young men should learn a good trade.

Receiver McNulta, of the Wabash, has issued a circular stating that Monday, December 26th, will be observed as a holiday by that road and that all work, as far as possible, will be suspended on that day.

All the departments of the Pennsylvania company's shops in this city began taking an inventory of stock to-day. This they do twice a year. It takes several days to accomplish the task, and as a consequence, the clerks in the shops have their hands full of work.

Harry Hayes, the machinist at the Bass foundry, had intended to spend his holidays at his old home in Richmond, Ind., but he has been ordered to go to Decatur, Ill., to repair an engine for the electric light works there and he will consequently spend his Christmas in that city.

Mr. G. L. Potter, the master mechanic of the Pennsylvania company's shops in this city, has posted a notice on the bulletin boards in the works, stating that the various departments of the Pittsburg shops will be closed down on Monday and no work will be in progress that day except for necessary repairs. This will give the eleven hundred employes of the Pittsburg works a well earned holiday.

Mr. T. E. Pickard, the superintendent of the Bass foundry and machine works, was met by a SENTINEL reporter this morning and asked what day the Bass works would observe for a Christmas holiday. "We shall observe Monday," said Mr. Pickard, "and on that day all the departments of the works will be closed down, and no work will be done except that necessary for repairs."

Harry Dailby, a machinist in the Bass foundry, has resigned his position and will go to his old home at Richmond, Ind., to-morrow. Harry is unfortunate. About a week ago he had a pocket book, containing $30, stolen from his room in his boarding house, and has not been able to obtain any trace of the money or the thief. His room-mate had $35 taken from his pocket at the same time.

Mr. Manning's Condition.

ALBANY, Dec. 23; 10 a. m.—Mr. Manning's is still living and may last the day out, though this is hardly expected. 3 p. m.—Mr. Manning is steadily weakening and his family are preparing for the approaching end.

The superb chamber set of magnificent furniture will be presented by Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max, to one of their patrons, February 1st.

Free Lunch.

Charles Aufrecht offers a rabbit stew for free lunch this and to-morrow evenings. Give him a call corner Harrison and Main streets. 23-2t

It Didn't Improve with Age.

Caller (in newspaper office)—Twenty years ago I wrote a poem.

Editor—Yes?

"I brought it to this office, and you refused to publish it."

"Very likely."

"I remember that I mentally put you down then as a confounded idiot who didn't know enough to ache when hurt."

"Naturally."

"I looked that poem over again the other day, and have come to see you about it."

"Aha!"

"I have come to say that if I looked as green twenty years ago as that poem proves me to have been, I want to thank you because you didn't cut me up and feed me to the cows. Good-day."

The editor drew a long chalk-mark under the table. It was the first case in all his experience in which twenty years had begotten sense enough to understand that it is sometimes necessary to be cruel to be kind. —Binghamton Republican.

ESCAPED DETECTION

FIRE AT NEW HAVEN

Spontaneous Combustion Causes a Big Fire in George Zurbuch's Store Building.

George Mack is the happy father of a big baby girl.

J. F. Haake, of Cleveland, Ohio, was the guest of F. Mack, Wednesday.

Catherine Drier left for Pella, Iowa, Tuesday, where she is visiting relatives.

Mrs. C. E. Rodenberg paid Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rogers a visit Tuesday.

H. F. Schneider left for Independence, Mo., Thursday, where he expects to make his future home.

W. H. Dornte has accepted a position as car inspector at Fort Wayne in the Wabash yards.

The railroad boys are happy; the Wabash railway paid its employes Wednesday and the Nickel Plate paid theirs Thursday.

J. C. Cromwell, of Fort Wayne, is shipping several cars of piling from here to Chicago, over the Wabash railway for piers in Lake Michigan.

Thursday evening, St. Charles branch, C. K. of A., held their election for officers to serve one year, which resulted as follows: J. J. Lee, president; C. Trudeau, vice president; J. D. Bickel, recording secretary; F. J. Manuel, financial secretary; B. Liblet, treasurer; A. Blaising, sergeant-at-arms; A. L. Rich, sentinel, and F. J. Zurbuch, trustee for three years.

Would it not be proper for our marshal to see to it that the town pump is kept in working order. Water could have been used to good advantage this morning.

J. E. Miller is working in the Nickel Plate dispatchers office at Fort Wayne. Chas. Waldruff is doing the telegraphy for the Nickel Plate here, during his absence.

About 4 o'clock this morning our people were summoned out by the fire bell, to what might have been a very large fire. Fire was discovered in the rag room on the second floor of Geo. Zurbuch's store building. Luckily the fire was got under control by the work of willing hands. If it had but a few minutes more start it would, without doubt, have burned out the business portion of our town. Smoke and water damaged the stock to the extent of about $900. The damage to the building was about $175. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion.

The citizens telegraphed to Fort Wayne for a fire engine, but they worked heroically enough to check the flames before anything was done towards sending a fire steamer down.

Mr. Zurbuch is a popular, enterprising young gentleman and is well known in Fort Wayne. His losses are covered by insurance.

Bert Grover left for Independence, Mo., Thursday, where he expects to make his future home.

NOW AND THEN.

Seldom have our people been offered such a complete display of gents' and boys' gloves and mitts as Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max are showing as holiday novelties.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES.

A Trio of Them Are Caught and Must Go to the Reform School.

Officers Lapp and Romy arrested James Crance, Nicholas Gessert and Herman Hilker for burglarizing the store of J. M. Keyser, Dec. 13.

They took from Mr. Keyer's place of business, in the Seventh ward, a big quantity of tobacco and cigars, and such articles as were of utility to them.

The officers succeeded in fixing the crime on the offenders, who are all under age. They had a hearing before the mayor this morning and he held them for trial in the sum of $200.

They afterward confessed that the stolen stuff was secreted under a culvert on Pontiac street and there the officers recovered it.

The lads were arraigned before Judge O'Rourke this afternoon. He took pity on them and gave them a Christmas gift. Crance got thirty days in jail, Gessert twenty days and Kilker got twenty days.

What His Visits Were Like.

"Your visits reminds me of the growth of a successful newspaper," said a Chicago paterfamilias, leaning his elbow on his hand and glancing affectionately up at William Henry, who was sweet on the old gentleman's daughter, Felicia Angelica.

"How so?" inquired the prospective son-in-law.

"Well, they commenced on a weekly, then they grew to a tri-weekly; the next change was to a semi-weekly; still later, we were favored with an evening edition, and now it has progressed to both a morning and an evening issue." —Sunday National.

Letter From the Assistant Foreman of the Delivery Department—A Subject in Which Thousands are Deeply Interested.

About five years ago I suffered from pain, full urination and great pain and weakness in the lower part of my back, pain in the limbs had taste in the mouth, disgust at food, and great mental and bodily depression.

I lived at 261 York street, Jersey City, and on reading one day one night I found a cure of the Shaker Extract. I had been left during the day. I read the article, "What is this Disease that is Coming Upon Us?" It described my symptoms and feeling better than I could if I had written a whole book. My trouble was indeed "like a thief in the night" for it had been stealing upon me unawares for years. I sent for a bottle of Shaker Extract of Roots, or Sarsaparilla Compound, and before I had taken one bottle I felt the welcome relief. In a few weeks I was like my old self. I rejoiced and digested my food. My kidneys were restored to full strength, and the urinary trouble vanished. I was well.

Many of your readers need such a medicine as I got in the Extract. To them I recommend Shaker Extract in the strongest possible terms. It is the greatest, pleasantest, safest and most powerful in the world. The most delicate women and children may take it. One point more. I have all the more confidence in this medicine because it is prepared by the Shakers. I myself am a believer in man myself and admire the Shakers for their zeal, consistency and strict business integrity. What they make may be trusted by the public. W. H. HALL.

FRIDAY, DEC. 23, 1887.

REMEMBER the poor on Christmas day.

MR. WIGGINS predicts a "green Christmas."

THE Christmas trade is phenomenal, and business men are rejoicing.

HON. DANIEL MANNING'S death will be deeply deplored. His individuality made him great and won for him national distinction.

WHEN the present extensions to Indiana roads are completed, this state will have in round numbers 6,000 miles of railroad, exclusive of side tracks, the valuation of which will be in the neighborhood of $63,000,000.

UNITED STATES SENATOR GORMAN, as is well known, was once a page in that body, but it is not so well known that Representative Hitt, of Illinois, fifteen years ago, was a member of the staff of house stenographers, and took in shorthand the speeches of some of the men with whom he now sits and votes on the floor.

IT is announced that there will be a grand gathering of democrats at Indianapolis, January 11, 1888. The call is made under the direction of the Hendricks club, of which James H. Rice, chairman of the state central committee, is president. The purpose of the rally is to make arrangements for the organization of Hendricks clubs in all parts of the state. It will be the beginning of the campaign. This is a step in the right direction, and every democrat who can, especially the young democracy, should attend if possible.

EDITOR SAM WINTER, of the Marion Jacksonian, devotes two columns of that paper to congressional politics, and as the district adjoins the Twelfth, the gossip will interest. The article is interesting as showing how many distinguished republicans and democrats there are in that congressional district, who are credited with political aspirations. Among the republicans mentioned are Major Steele and Hiram Brownlee, of Grant county; J. J. Todd and W. S. Silvers, of Wells county; R. S. Patterson, Adams county; General Shanks, Col. Headington, Jesse LaFollette and W. H. Williams, Jay county; Calvin Cowgill, Wabash county, and S. L. Good, C. E. Briant, A. H. Shaffer and J. B. Kenner, of Huntington county. On the democratic side the following names are suggested: Hugh Daugherty and A. N. Martin, Wells county; James Bobo, Silas Hale and John M. Smith, Adams county; Bayard S. Gray, W. H. Harkins and Dr. Silvey, Jay county; the Farrars and Judge Mitchell, of Miami county, and Bala. Eisenhauer, of Huntington.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. JAMES M. ROLLINS, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppression, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in the "change of life," when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and occasional laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (168 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address,

PEASANTS OF CHAMPERY.

A Swiss Village Whose Young Men and Women Are Not Given to Marrying.

(London Queen.)

The peasants of Champery are especially genial and pleasant; every one you meet has a bonjour for you, and they never think of asking more than the value of their excellent cream and milk. They are not a marrying people, and there are very few children to be seen. In one of their possessions there were eighty-five unmarried women. Astonished at such a number of old maids in a small community, I inquired if the young men sought brides from a distance. The answer was: "Oh, no; they do not often marry at all. They live at home with their parents; there are not chalets enough for them to make a separate menage, nor land enough to feed more mouths." Therefore this village bids fair to decrease in population.

The Cure has an immense influence and does not allow his people to beg. He disapproves of gay colors. Hence the women's hats are mostly trimmed with black, and he has put quite a veto on dancing. When servants' balls are got up in the hotels he begs that the young men will not give their hands in the dance to the stranger. He does not think it necessary to caution the young women. A few days ago a young girl, said to be the prettiest in the village, died of consumption and was buried two days afterward. It was a pretty sight to see the funeral procession come down the village. The bearers were four young men with white ribbons and favors, and the women all wore white muslin veils—the same which they had worn on the fete of the Assumption of the Virgin, when all the people, men and women, attended service in the church, and with the Cure at their head, walked through the village, chanting and carrying a banner. The little church was full during the funeral service, the women kneeling to the left, the men to the right of the aisle, the coffin placed in the middle, covered with flowers and surrounded by lighted candles. At one period of the service the women all filed round in procession, each one sprinkling the coffin with holy water. After the coffin had been lowered the grave was filled in by the four young men, and the mound shaped by them, the poor girl's godmother remaining to superintend and put the finishing touches. The portrait of the girl adorns the shop windows, riding on a mule like a man, and with the primitive wide trousers which the women wear in the mountains. There are two or three general shops or "stores," where every variety of article can be purchased, from large hats and gauze veils to woolen goods and English biscuits.

As a rule ladies come to these mountain places quite unprovided with suitable attire. They have dresses with "kilting" round the bottom, which rip off and catch on a rock the first mountain path they descend, often risking a bad fall. Then they have boots so thin that the stones literally cut them to pieces, and they have to resort to the native shoemaker, who will make them a strong pair of high laced-up boots for about 14 francs. A plain woolen skirt, not gored, is the most useful dress. It should be not so tight as to impede progress, nor so heavy as to fatigue the wearer, and there will be nothing in it to catch or tear. A full flannel bodice and belt at the waist, to which latter a few useful articles should be attached (knife, scissors, pins, etc.), and a large hat, which will dispense with a sunshade, are also desirable, as it is uncomfortable to have to hold a parasol in one hand and pick your way with an alpen-stock in the other.

"Hesaw before him the Gladiator die." Yes, and he wouldn't perhaps, if there had only been a sensible man to rub him well with Salvation Oil.

Courtship in Greenland.

The preacher is invariably resorted to, both by young men and maidens, as the matrimonial agent. A young man comes to the missionary house and says to him, "I want to marry."

"Whom?" asks the missionary. "Have you any one in mind?"

"Yes," answers the lover, "but she will not have me. I want you to speak to her."

"Have you not spoken for yourself?"

"Many times, but she always says 'No.'"

"That is nothing," says the pastor; "you know the ways of maidens. Does she like you?"

"It is difficult to find out. She will tell you." The pastor accordingly sends for the girl, who comes willingly enough, knowing what the message means.

"Well," my daughter, he observes, "it is time you should think of marriage."

"I never mean to marry," is the invariable and conventional answer.

"That is a pity," says the minister, "because I have a good husband for thee."

"Who is he" she asks.

The missionary then tells his name—although she knows it as well as he does—and launches out into the lover's praise. He is strong, good-looking, kindly, he caught two fine whales when his companions took none, or whatever else can be said to his repute. After the catalogue of his merits has been given the girl replies:

"But I think him good-for-nothing."

"Ah, well, says the missionary, "then art not wise. There is no lad can fling a harpoon as he can. Ushall soon find him a wife."

He then wishes the girl a good day, affecting to believe that the interview is over. But she is sure to linger, and after a blush and sigh she whispers: "So it is particularly your wish, Herr Pastor? I do not quite like him," with a deep sigh, "but if you——" At this point she virtually hands over the business to the minister, who has to tell her that she knows she loves the lad; that she would not have come if she had not thought of accepting him, and that nothing is wanting but to ask the blessing of God upon their union.

The marriage, curiously enough, usually takes place upon the very day on which the bride has emphatically protested that she will never have the bridegroom.—Manchester Courier.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

When Major Wilkes Treats a Crowd He Draws the Line at Custard Pie.

Major Horatio N. Wilkes, one of the Democratic warhorses of Lycoming County, Pennsylvania, was running for a seat in the Pennsylvania Legislature on the Democratic ticket in a red-hot Republican district. He ran so well that he came within 217 votes of taking the prize, and is as proud of the feat as though he actually won. During the canvass the Major visited every election precinct and invaded country stores, where everything from hairpins and groceries to tobacco and whisky is dispensed.

One day he stalked proudly into a store in which a dozen men were sitting around on boxes and barrels. He boldly announced himself and proceeded to make friends. At first the crowd was disposed to guy the stout little Major, but they found he was not an ordinary man and would not be trifled with. After discussing politics about five minutes he electrified the loungers by pulling out a wad of greenbacks and saying: "Come, boys, what are you going to have with me?"

No man knows what a crowd of men in a country store will take until he has tried it. That was the Major's first experience. Well, the fillers arose as one man and shuffled up to the counter.

"What'll you have, boys?" repeated the Major.

"Wa-a-l," drawled a tall farmer, "give me a little nose-paint. Make it old rye."

"That's good enough for me," said the Major. "What's yours, my friend?" he inquired, turning to a long-haired bystander.

"Well, seein' as I don't drink anythin' 'cept water and once in a while a little milk, I guess I'll take a pint of peanuts."

The look the Major gave the temperance apostle would have withered a turnip, but the apostle didn't see it.

"Give me some pop beer," demanded another.

"Mine's a paper of fine-cut cavendish," demanded a third.

"And mine's whisky," blurted a big man with his trousers stuffed into his boots.

So it went, some calling for fluids and some for solids until all but three men on the outskirts of the throng had been treated.

"Come, come, gentleman, don't be bashful. Call for what you want—whisky, tobacco, cigars, or hairpins let it be: yes, even five sticks of candy—but I'll be eternally hornswoggled if I don't draw the line at custard pie."

And he paid the bill with a flourish and left the store.

MAKE NO MISTAKE.—If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion and preparation, curative power superior to any other article of the kind before the people. For all affections arising from impure blood or low state of the system it is unequalled. Be sure to get Hood's.

To Clean Silver.

Dissolve a lump of carbonate of ammonia in a pan of absolutely boiling water, pass the silver through it and dry immediately. Once a week rub the spots with fine whiting dissolved in spirits of wine. When this is quite well dried on the silver rub each piece carefully with clean towels and then with soft chamois. It will be beautifully bright. Still better than whiting is the jeweler's rouge, made in bars for the express purpose of cleaning silver. Wash the silver every time it is used, in a pan by itself, with plenty of boiling water, a brush and silver soap. Dry each piece as it is taken out of the water and rub with the chamois cloth before putting it away. Treated in this way silver never becomes dim and the weekly polishing is not a formidable affair.
